Jennifer Clark new Senior Vice President Sustainability at Skanska

Jennifer Clark has been appointed Senior Vice President Sustainability at Skanska. Jennifer will begin April 1, and succeeds Noel Morrin who will leave Skanska and take on the position as Executive Vice President and head the Group's Social Responsibility at Stora Enso. Jennifer will report to Claes Larsson, Executive Vice President Skanska AB.

Jennifer Clark has been working in Skanska since 2000. She started her career with Skanska based on projects and has for six years held the position as Director of Environment for Skanska UK, where she also is a member of the Senior Management Team. She has played key roles in the Skanska Group teams for Green, Corporate Community Investment, Ethics and Diversity & Inclusion, four key areas within Sustainability that Skanska will continue to focus on.

"Jennifer has excellent competence and invaluable experience from working both with projects as well as within many areas of Sustainability. Her contribution has been instrumental in positioning Skanska UK as the leader in Green in the UK. She is a very appreciated colleague with strong leader skills and will lead the global Sustainability team at Skanska AB. Jennifer's dedication and understanding of the customer's perspective makes her well suited to lead the Group efforts within Sustainability going forward", says Claes Larsson, Executive Vice President, Skanska AB.
