

Skanska Expands Regional Philadelphia Office to Include New Special Projects Group Focused on Commercial Fit Outs

February 14, 2012, Philadelphia, Pa. – Skanska USA announced today that its building business unit, which is a leading provider of construction management, preconstruction, and design-build services, has formed Skanska Special Projects Group, a new operational group, in its regional Philadelphia office. The Special Projects Group will focus primarily on general contracting, tenant improvements, corporate and commercial interiors work and renovation projects in the Philadelphia metropolitan area.

Rob Cisler will lead the new Special Projects Group as project director. In his new role, Cisler will work with Skanska's business development team to enhance the company's presence in the greater Philadelphia area. He will also work with Skanska's operational team to introduce a self-perform general contractor approach to all current and future projects.

"The addition of Skanska Special Projects Group to our office will provide us with an excellent opportunity to expand Skanska's presence in the region and leverage our unique services for facility renovations and interiors projects," said Ed Szwarc, executive vice president and general manager of Skanska USA's Philadelphia area office. "This is a very capable group of professionals with specific expertise who are highly experienced and have a proven track record of delivering high-end, demanding and time-sensitive projects for clients in all industries and sectors. I am extremely confident in Rob's ability to manage the new Special Projects Group, and look forward to the exciting start of a business focused on supporting our clients' needs."

Cisler joined Skanska in 2000. With over 20 years of experience in the construction industry, he most recently served as the senior project manager for the new Capital Health Medical Center – Hopewell in Pennington, N.J. Prior to that, he managed renovation and tenant interiors work for numerous clients in the Greater Philadelphia area.

Cisler received a B.S. in business management from Penn State, and his MBA from Temple University.

For further information please contact:

Beth Miller, Communications Manager, Skanska USA, 917-438-4523,

beth.miller@skanska.com

Allyson Quinby, Solomon McCown, 617-695-555,

aquinby@solomonmccown.com

This and previous releases can also be found at www.skanska.com.

Skanska USA is one of the largest, most financially sound construction networks in the country serving a broad range of industries including healthcare, education, sports, data centers, government, aviation, transportation, power, energy and water/wastewater. Headquartered in New York with 36 offices across the country, Skanska USA employs approximately 9,400 employees committed to sustainable construction and an injury-free workplace. Skanska USA Building, which specializes in building construction, and Skanska USA Civil, which is focused on civil infrastructure, generated $4.9 billion in revenue in 2011, representing 28 percent of Skanska's global construction revenues. Additional operations in the U.S. include Skanska USA Commercial Development, which pursues commercial development initiatives in select U.S. markets, and Skanska Infrastructure Development Americas, which develops public-private partnerships. Global revenue of parent company Skanska AB, headquartered in Stockholm and listed on the Stockholm Stock Exchange, totaled $18.9 billion in 2011.

###