Skanska Promotes Dennis Georgatos to Project Executive

NASHVILLE, Tenn. – Skanska USA announced today its building unit has promoted Dennis Georgatos to Project Executive from Senior Project Manager. In this role, Georgatos will serve as the point of contact during construction, and will be responsible for the technical and managerial leadership of projects and oversight of subcontractor support resources.

Georgatos joined Skanska in 1999 and is based out of the company's Nashville office. He is the Project Executive for Franklin Woods Community Hospital in Johnson City, Tenn., which is expected to be the first LEED-certified hospital in the state. In addition, Georgatos has overseen projects such as the Southwestern Medical Center in Lawton, Okla., University of Virginia Hospital expansion in Charlottesville, Va., and the Ennis Regional Medical Center in Ennis, Texas.

Georgatos earned a Bachelor of Science degree in architectural engineering technology from Wentworth Institute of Science in Boston, Mass. Georgatos has more than 12 years of commercial construction experience. He is a LEED-accredited professional and is certified as a healthcare contractor by the American Society for Healthcare Engineering.
