Lena Hök new Senior Vice President Green & Community Investment at Skanska AB

As of August 28 Lena Hök will take on the position as Senior Vice President Green & Community Investment (CI) at Skanska AB.

Lena Hök comes from a position as the Head of Sustainability at Skandia and as Head of Skandia Research Foundation. She is also a board member of SIDA, Swedish International Development Agency, and chairs the Swedish ICC (International Chamber of Commerce) Committee for Corporate Responsibility and Anti-Corruption.

“We focus on areas of sustainability, such as Green and CI, where we can make the most significant positive contribution to society and fulfill our Skanska purpose, building for a better society. Through delivering our projects and focusing on how we deliver them ensures a sustainable future for our people, customers and communities. Delivering on sustainability is a business advantage that is also expected by our customers, communities and other stakeholders. Lena has a proven and strong track record of successfully integrating sustainability into the business offering and I very much look forward to our collaboration”, says Christel Åkerman, Executive Vice President, Skanska AB.
