Skanska Promotes Three to Executive Positions in Atlanta Office

Skanska USA Building Inc. announced the promotion of three company executives in the Atlanta office: Mark Allnutt to Account Manager and Senior Vice President, and both Brian Murray and Tim York to Vice President and Operations Leader. All three report to Steve Laux, Area General Manager of Skanska's Atlanta office.

Mark Allnutt

Allnutt is responsible for managing healthcare construction projects and securing new opportunities in that area. Previously, he was Vice President and Project Executive. Allnutt's experience includes 12 years with Skanska and three years at Donnell Consulting in Tampa, Fla.

He earned a bachelor's degree in Construction Management from the University of Florida. Allnutt is a resident of Kennesaw, Ga.

Brian Murray

Murray is managing the construction of the BlueCross BlueShield of Tennessee's new Corporate Campus in Chattanooga, scheduled for completion in 2009. His previous position at Skanska was Vice President of Operations in Jacksonville, Fla., and he has been with the company for more than 12 years. Murray earned a bachelor's degree in Building Science from Auburn University. He is a resident of Smyrna, Ga.

Tim York

York oversees construction projects at St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital and Methodist LeBonheur Children's Medical Center in Memphis, Tenn., as well as at the Shands/UF Cancer Hospital in Gainesville, Fla. He has been with Skanska for nine years. York earned a bachelor's degree in Construction Management from the University of North Florida. He resides in Fayetteville, Ga.

"We are very proud to see Mark, Brian and Tim assume these leadership positions at Skanska USA Building," said Laux. "Their remarkable management skills will greatly benefit our operations in Atlanta and the Southeast."
