Skanska Completes Construction on New Cyberknife® Center at Stamford Hospital

MILFORD, Conn. (May 22, 2008) – Skanska USA Building Inc.

announced today the completion of the new CyberKnife® Center at Stamford Hospital in Stamford, Connecticut. Stamford Hospital is the only hospital in the region with a CyberKnife®, the latest and most advanced technology available in fighting cancer and other tumors. It uses an array of precise x-ray beams to attack tumors with pinpoint accuracy, while preserving surrounding healthy cells.

“Stamford Hospital provides superior healthcare service to the region and beyond and we were honored to have the opportunity to work with them on this important addition to their facility,” said Alan Sparn, Skanska Senior Vice President. “Skanska has extensive expertise in the healthcare industry and we look forward to working with Stamford Hospital in the future.” Skanska provided pre-construction and construction management services to this 6,500-square-foot project that began in September 2007.

The CyberKnife® Center is part of the larger five-year construction program contracted to Skanska USA at Stamford Hospital. To date, nine projects have been completed or are in construction with another nine to twelve projects planned over the next three years. The projects range from a 44,000-square-foot fit-out of clinical space to the construction of a new pulmonary unit and construction of a state-of-the-art cardiovascular unit.

Skanska USA Building Inc. is a leading national and local provider of construction, pre-construction consulting, general contracting and design-build services to a broad range of U.S. industries including life sciences, healthcare, education, high-tech, aviation, transportation and sports and entertainment.
